DETAILED ACTION

Status of the Claims

1. The preliminary amendment received on September 15, 2006 amended claims 3, 7, 16-18, and 23.

Claims 1-23 are currently pending and under consideration.

Election/Restrictions

2. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-7, drawn to a combinatorial protein library.

Group II, claim(s) 8, drawn to a combinatorial expression library.

Group III, claim(s) 9-16, drawn to a mutant protein.

Group IV, claim(s) 17-23, drawn to a method for identifying a toxic ligand.

3. The inventions listed as Groups I-IV do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the common technical feature is a mutant protein comprising an insert in the protease-sensitive loop of the A chain of a toxic protein. Wong et al. U.S. Patent Application Publication 2002/0058615 (published May 16, 2002) teach composition comprising bacteria-derived toxins including A chain toxins and inserting peptides into disulfide loops (please refer to the entire specification particularly paragraphs 12, 32, and 56). In addition, Fitzgerald U.S. Patent 7,314,632 (filed July 10, 1998) teach Pseudomonas exotoxin A-like chimeras wherein the disulfide loop has an insertion (please refer to the entire specification particularly Figures 1A and 1B; columns 2-3, 5, 16, 19).

Art Unit: 1639

4. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

For Group I: a single, specific species of where the insert is introduced (see claims 4-6);

For Group III: a single, specific species of where the insert is introduced (see claims 11-12 and 15) and a single, specific species of insert (see claims 13-14); and

For Group IV: a single, specific species of how the target/receptor is displayed (see claims 20-22).

5. Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

6. Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

7. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Art Unit: 1639

For Group I: see claims 4-6, for Group III: see claims 11-15, and for Group IV: see claims 20-22.

8. The following claim(s) are generic: for Group I: claim 1, for Group III: claim 9, and for Group IV: claim 17.

9. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the species are structurally and/or functionally different.

10. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

11. The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

12. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
